

Spring Hill College, a Jesuit, Catholic liberal arts institution, invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level to begin either January 2023 or August 2023. Area of specialization is open with preference given to those interested and qualified to teach some or all the following courses: General Psychology, Biological Psychology, Social Psychology, and Research Methods. A successful candidate should have a completed Ph.D. by the start date.

Applicants should be committed to excellence in teaching and mentorship in a small, liberal arts college setting. The ability and willingness to work collaboratively with a 4-4 teaching load are essential.

Interested applicants should submit (1) a letter of application describing teaching, mentorship, and research interests; (2) a teaching statement; (3) a curriculum vitae, including a list of graduate coursework (official graduate transcripts will be required of the successful candidate); (4) names and email addresses of three referees; (5) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., student evaluations, syllabi) to psychsearch@shc.edu. Application review will begin immediately. An Equal Opportunity Employer
